

The twenty first magazine of the TV series “Step by Step”

Topic of the 21st magazine of the TV series “Step by step” is environmental protection.

The first story is from Novi Becej

No one knows the special reservation Slano Kopovo better than Oto Bito, ranger who cares for this habitation of rare birds and plants of international importance. It is one of the Serbian natural rarities, which should all become part of the European network of preserved natural areas.

The second story comes from Subotica

Each month, pupils in Subotica schools have outdoor classrooms at the Palic Zoo, where they are taught about responsible treatment of animals and nature in general. This Zoo is not a mere animal display, but a good education tool and it serves as a shelter to all endangered domestic and rare kind of animals, as well as other unwell, injured or abandoned wild animals.

The third story is from Loznica

The shortcut through the woods, from the birth house of Vuk Karadzic in Trsic to the Tronosa Monastery where he went to school, was shaggy and covered with garbage for a long time. The first sign posts were placed there three years ago, when local youth started cleaning the woods within their spring activities “Eco-camp Trsic”.
